INFORMATION PLEASE DEPT.

(Edited by a Gal with sixteen stitches in her lip and a black eye.)

Dear Mr. Mac:

Considering that newspaper people know everything, I am wondering if you will please help me identify a certain woman in this vicinity. Before I describe her, however, let me warn you that my wife may belittle this matter. She knows about it but considers the whole thing completely harmless.

Imagine! Here I am, the victim of a mad passion that could wreck our home, and all my wife does is give me a tolerant, affectionate smile! (But maybe THIS will make her sit up and take notice!)

Now—about this "other" woman. She is a "Femme Fatale" if ever there was one. She is so wonderful that she is slowly driving me out of my mind! I don't know where she lives, whether she is married or single—in fact, I don't even know her full name. All I know is: her last name is quite short—it's spelled UL (sounds very foreign)—and she has the most thrilling, the most exciting voice in this world!

One more clue. I finally got her telephone number (indirectly, of course) and I've been calling her almost every day, but when I start trying to get acquainted she gives me a routine which, after a while, amounts to the same as double talk. No matter what terms of endearment I use, "Miss UL" puts me off with a line of chatter as smooth as clock-work.

Can you help me? Please! If you try her phone number, 3-1212, perhaps you can make more headway than I have. I have even tried reading a bit of poetry to her, (a lover's sonnet, naturally), but so far, her response has been no more than merely to pass the time of day! Sewall Clark.

Alaska Films To Be Shown In Auditorium

A full-length picture of Alaska in all of its glory and color will be shown in Sierra Madre at the City School auditorium on the evenings of Sept. 29, 30, and Oct. 1 at 8 o'clock, under auspices of the Chamber of Commerce.

Seven years of filming were required to perfect the picture which gives a comprehensive view of America's Last Frontier.

Among the many breathtaking features of the two-hour show is the "Great Lake George Break-Up," the only self-filling and emptying lake in the world—15 miles long, 5 miles wide and from 200 to 300 feet deep. It took photographers three years to film one year's complete cycle, shown in minutes.

Fishermen will enjoy the sports fishing sequences in which a 45-pound salmon is landed. Giant Kodiak bears walk within 15 feet of the cameras.

The picture has played to capacity audiences in each city that it has been shown. A. Cavalli, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said this week.

Mr. Cavalli also pointed out that in addition to seeing an excellent picture, your purchase of tickets to the event will also benefit the Chamber of Commerce. Tickets are $1 for adults and 50c for students.

Fifth-Graders to Visit Planetarium Saturday

All fifth grade students in Sierra Madre have been invited by the Kiwanis Club to visit the Griffith Park Planetarium on the afternoon of "National Kid's Day," Saturday, Sept. 25.

Charles A. Skutt, chairman of Boys' and Girls' Work for the Sierra Madre Kiwanis Club, has announced that the student group with Kiwanians will leave by bus from the Woman's Clubhouse at 1 p.m. After the planetarium visit they will return home at approximately 5:30 p.m.

MRS. MARK J. SCHAEFER, chairman of solicitors for the "Buy a Rose and Help Float a Float" committee sells a real rose to Mrs. Stewart H. Potter as John Potter, 5, and Mrs. Mac Cason, another member of the Float Association look on.

Adult Education Courses Offered

A "World Politics Program" has been offered locally to adults in Sierra Madre by the University Extension, University of California, Los Angeles. The program will include discussions based on reading assignments such as: "What Causes War?"—"Power Politics"—"State and the Individual," etc.

A bound and boxed set of reading material is included in the tuition of $12 for an individual and $18 for a married couple. First meeting for the Sierra Madre group will be held in the Park House at Sierra Madre City Park, Wednesday evening, Oct. 6.

Establishment of the group depends on the number of Sierra Madreans who enroll. More complete details may be obtained through Mrs. Hugh Colvin, Custer 5-0322.

"Dick" Graves To Speak Here

Plans for the picnic in Sierra Madre Villa Park Sunday afternoon, Oct. 3, at which Richard Graves, Democratic nominee for Governor, will speak, include valuable door prizes—though, of course, there won't be any doors. Other entertaining features—not yet announced—are also being planned.

Although the picnic is sponsored by the Democratic clubs of Sierra Madre, Hastings Ranch, Monrovia and Duarte, everyone is welcome. Persons attending are asked to bring their own picnic baskets.

Mr. Graves is expected to arrive about 3 p.m. and to speak at 4. A spokesman for the local Democratic group said that Mr. Graves will remain to meet the people and to answer their questions until dark if a satisfactory.

Burglary Attempt At Simpson Cleaners

Burglars forced an entry thru the rear door at Simpson Cleaners, 280 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., Friday night after closing hours, but the proprietors, Mr. and Mrs. Simpson, report that nothing was stolen.

Inability to open the door from the inside, once an entry was made, is the reason given for the failure at theft. Police, who say the forced entry was the fourth of its kind within recent weeks, took finger prints and photographed the scene.

DISCUSSION GROUP TO MEET IN EXPERIMENT

An experimental discussion group, sponsored by the Fund for Adult Education, will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Snow, 310 E. Highland, Wednesday, Sept. 29, beginning at 8 p.m. The subject for discussion will be "The Jeffersonian Heritage."

Goal of $7500 Set for Local 'Chest' Drive

A goal of $7500 has been set for the Sierra Madre Community Chest campaign, according to Newell Barrett, local fund chairman. The campaign, designed to benefit worthy organizations in Sierra Madre, will begin Monday, Oct. 11.

The campaign board of directors, meeting each week in Barrett's office, are planning to concentrate on donations from business firms during the first two weeks of the drive, either by individual contact or by mail. Persons who are on pay-rolls in nearby communities may specify that their contributions should be sent here to be credited to Sierra Madre Community Chest funds.

A later part of the campaign will include house-to-house calls by local committee members and volunteer workers. Funds collected will be divided among all Chest member agencies according to the individual budget of each.

Those organizations which receive the benefit of the local drive are: Toy Loan, Boy Scouts, Family Service of Sierra Madre, Visiting Nurses, Camp Fire Girls, Community Nursery School, Girl Scouts, and the YMCA.

C. of C. Zoning Committee Holds First Conference

The zoning committee of the Chamber of Commerce met this week to outline plans for recommendations to be made to the City Council.

"The zoning problem must be intelligently solved if we are to grow and prosper and we can best do this by cooperating with the Council," Don Jackson, president of the Chamber, said today.

Other members of the committee are: Tom Schwartz, Harry Lange, Dave Roess, Noren Eaton, J. C. McKibben, T. W. Neale, R. E. Garland, Harold Roberts, Lorne Pratt and A. Morgan.

Buy a Rose And Help Build a Float

ROSE VENDORS START WORK

Mr. and Mrs. Sierra Madre and all of the little Sierra Madreans are going to be asked to become a part of the Sierra Madre float to be entered in the Tournament of Roses when real roses will be put on sale by members of the newly organized Float Association in its initial step towards raising the necessary funds for its production.

BIDS OPENED ON THREE MAJOR ITEMS

Bids on the City retirement plan were received and opened at the Sept. 14 meeting of the City Council, from the following listed companies: Continental Assurance Co. (Loomis); Prudential Ins. Co. (Burns); Massachusetts Mutual (Van Cleve); New England Mutual (Tidmore); Aetna Life Insurance Co.; Connecticut General Life Insurance Co.; Occidental Life Insurance Co. of California (Tidmore).

Bids were referred to committee and City Administrator Bevington for further study.

Four bids on the 1250 GPM Class "A" triple combination (fire engine) were also received and opened. The General Pacific Corp. quoted a price of $28,304.96; Seagrave Hirsch Inc., $28,949; G. E. Van Pelt, $25,983; Crown Body and Coach Corp., $28,823.20.

Two bids for a police car were received and opened with a quotation from the C. S. Mead Motor Co. for $1,409.96 and the John Wilks Co. for $1,042.98. Bids were referred to committee and the Police Department for further study.

Bids covering curbs and gutters on Manzanita between Hermosa and Lima were received from A. D. Mancuso, W. B. Wilkinson and Erwin R. Larson.

The sale of roses will start this Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock and will continue all day Saturday. All contributions will be welcome, but the slogan, "Donate at Least One Hour's Pay and Send Our Float on Its Way," is a gentle hint that folding money will be as joyously received as that which tinkles.

The volunteer solicitors will cover the shopping area and merchants who wish to make their contributions at this time may do so either by dropping their checks in the boxes, or sending their offering to R. C. Lewis, treasurer of the association, Bank of Sierra Madre.

Mrs. Mark J. Schaefer and Mrs. Ronald Merritt are in charge of solicitation. The list of names of their army of workers was not available at NEWS press time.

Organization of the Float Association is the result of the work and tenacity of a small group of persons who are determined to see Sierra Madre continue its tradition of entering a float that will be designed and built by Sierra Madreans.

Scores of calls were received at the NEWS office last December indicating that many hundreds of Sierra Madreans were eager to give their support to a float, providing it was kept on a home town level.

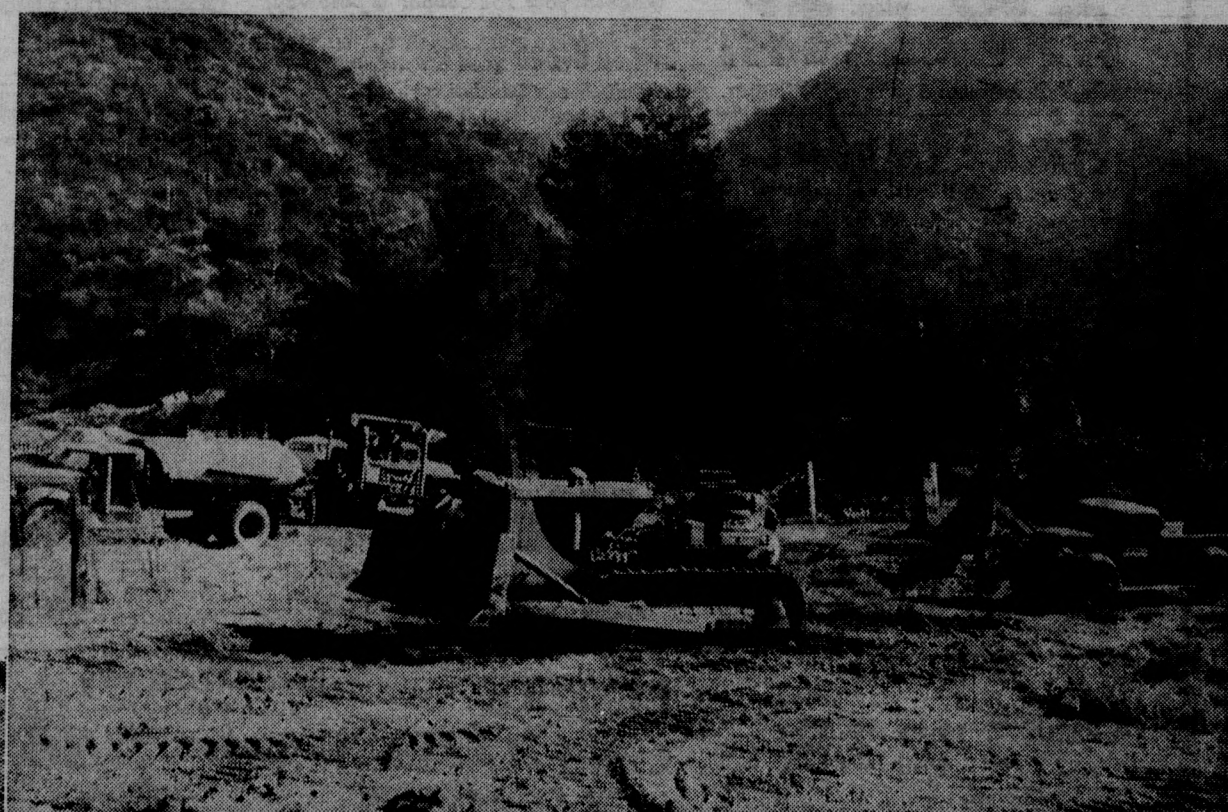

The time is here for YOUR participation—so won't you Buy a Rose and Help Float a Float?

Report on Debris Basins Given By U. S. Engineers

A contract for the construction of Auburn, Bailey and Carter Basins was awarded the T. M. Page Construction Co. of Monrovia on Sept. 9, and on Sept. 10 trucks and equipment were rolling to the job. Every effort is being made to accomplish the construction of all three of the basins before the rainy season starts.

During the past week much has been accomplished in clean-up, clearing and some grading in these areas. At Bailey (photo on the left) the old existing spillway is being demolished in order to make way for the new construction. Photo on the right shows equipment at Auburn Canyon and photo below shows clean-up activity at Carter Canyon.

Residents in the area are urged to keep all small children away from the site of operations.

Sierra Madre Building Permits Near $200,000 Mark for Aug.

Building permits issued last month by the office of William R. Lees, Sierra Madre's building inspector, hit a valuation of $189,447 in the highest recording for August in many years. The Bank of Sierra Madre topped the list with a permit for new construction at 94 E. Sierra Madre Blvd. valued at $106,500.

Three private dwelling units in a total valuation of $57,500 added to the August figure that brought the year's total of $895,005 as compared to last year's listing of $857,052 for the first eight months.

Following the Bank of Sierra Madre on Inspector Lees' list of permits were: Dr. D. S. Wood, 450 E. Highland, tool shed, $300; Harry H. Howard, 642 Alta Vista Dr., swimming pool, $2000; T. Quarstrom, 455 N. Canon Dr., to add two rooms and a bath, $5000; I. L. Rutledge, 126 E. Debbie Puts Head Out Car Window; Mamma Crashes!!!

Mrs. Edgar W. Jenkinson and her 5-year-old daughter, Debbie, were injured in an automobile accident Tuesday morning while driving west on Sierra Madre Blvd. near Rancho Road enroute to City School at 8:45 o'clock. Both were treated later at the office of Dr. Nathan Jacobs for injuries requiring facial stitches.

Mrs. Jenkinson, who owns and publishes the Sierra Madre News with her husband, Edgar Jenkinson, returned to the newspaper in the afternoon to meet her deadlines for this week's issue of the paper.

The accident, involving no other car, occurred while Mrs. Jenkinson was reaching for her daughter who had leaned from an open window to wave a handkerchief in the breeze. Loss of driving control for a split second was enough to send the car crashing headlong into a power pole.

Returning to work, Mrs. Jenkinson's first words were in praise of the Sierra Madre police who arrived at the scene a few moments after the accident to give fast, efficient help.

Zone Change Hearing Held By Commission

The first public hearing concerning the zone change for tract 17951, a portion of the P. M. Lannan estate on East Grandview near the double-drive of Santa Anita Avenue, passed without protest at the Planning Commission meeting Sept. 9. Second hearing will be Oct. 14.

Changed from an R-1-L zone to R-1-M, this tract may now be divided into lots each at a minimum of only 15,000 square feet instead of the 15,000 square feet required by R-1-L. In the new construction planned there by subdivider Jean Lilliano of Los Angeles, a little more than 38 acres are reportedly involved.

Nine and one-half acres of the estate have been given to the Los Angeles Flood Control District, on which the U. S. Corps of Engineering has been building a check dam and debris basin to be maintained by the Flood Control District.

Breakfast with Your Governor Tickets Ready

Members of the "Knight for Governor" Committee and other Sierra Madre Republicans were busily engaged this week in distributing tickets for the "Breakfast With Your Governor" function planned for Saturday morning, Oct. 30, in the City Parkhouse.

Judge John R. Mead, chairman of the Knight group, reported that last Sunday he had the privilege of presenting tickets No. 1 and 2 to the Governor and Mrs. Knight in Los Angeles and that plans for their reception in Sierra Madre were being well worked out.

Governor Knight's acceptance of a speaking engagement here gives the City its first opportunity to play host to the State's highest official and it is expected that the event will transcend political affiliations in extending a hearty welcome.

Present plans call for breakfast to be served from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. Time of the Governor's speech to be given in City Park, will be announced later.

What Do You Think?

Housewives who have to watch their budgets won't buy a pig in a poke. They conscientiously see, hear and compare. But how many of us are that careful when we exercise the great privilege of voting?

Sierra Madre is about to have an unusual opportunity. Both the Republican and Democratic candidates for Governor are to be our guests. If we were conscientious about it, all of us who could would make it a point to see, meet and hear both candidates and give serious thought to what they have to say. But most of us will just root for the representative of our team, whether or not we really think him the better man. And then we will wonder why politics develop so many deals which hurt all of us and cost us money.

Just now most of us are more excited about the World Series than about politics. We can no longer go to "friendly Gilmore Field, where one can always see a fight," but a lot of us will be hugging our radios to listen to World Series games. For the time, we'll forget Formosa and EDC and even the bills we owe because of our interest in 18 young men—not counting pinch hitters—who will be contending for the baseball championship — and I'll be one of the multitude.

Having a son in the Air Force, though, I won't entirely forget Formosa. My personal opinion is that we are blundering over there. Years ago, when we put the Seventh Fleet into the Formosa Straits it was there like a big policeman, to keep peace. It not only forbade Red China to attack Formosa but it forbade Chiang-Kai-Shek to attack China. Now it is still there to protect Formosa, which is all right, but it is permitting Chiang to attack China almost daily. That situation can't go on without involving us in war with Red China, and Russia is bound to China by treaty. In Korea we discovered that Chinese, given modern arms, can fight extremely well. Such a war might last a long, long time, and we would have to bear the brunt of it as in Korea. Then, after winning it, we would have to draft millions of men to hold down those great areas, and eventually so many of them would marry Chinese and Siberian girls that pretty soon we'd become part Chinified and part Russified. When action is necessary I believe in action, but I don't believe in threats and insults which create bad feeling and almost force war on any

Proper Perspective of Selves Essential to Understanding Others, Says Traveled Writer

By VIRGINIA PITTINGER

Too many Americans who set forth to travel in foreign countries feel that they are leaving behind them in the U.S.A. all comfort and all worthwhile civilization. Not long ago the newspapers quoted a famous TV comedian who, on his return to this country, commented, "When you leave America you're just camping out!"

Charity suggests that, being a comedian, he was merely trying to be funny. But honesty compels the admission that his statement was stupidly—if not maliciously—false.

In wealthy Switzerland—be- loved of all tourists—the cleanliness, comfort and quality of even second-class hotels in small towns are beyond reproach, and first-class and de- luxe establishments are sumptu- ous.

In poor Greece where warmth and kindly hospitality take the place of elegance, there is still cleanliness and a reasonable comfort. Spain is dotted with government-owned and oper- ated alberges and paradores— inns so charming, comfortable and inexpensive that one is often beguiled into staying longer than he originally in- tended. And every city of any size in any country has its own share of hotels each classed ac- cording to its capacity, neigh- borhood and equipment.

It seems to me that compar- isons between countries are more odious than most. They are in the long run just an- other divide-and-conquer de- vice of the enemy. But if Americans persist in their unfortunate habit of comparing European plumbing with that at home, they will not only miss all the exciting, inspiring wonders of the past, they will come to a rude awakening in the present.

For Italy's automobile de- signs are the most graceful in the world; England makes the best all-around electric kitch- en mixer, the finest china and woolsens, and is years ahead in aviation; Switzerland cannot be matched in any number of fields—watches, certain ma- chine tools, many textiles; people that feels "loss of face" is worse than death. If we get into war with a huge nation with three times our manpower, backed up by another huge nation which is producing atomic bombs, all the youth of Sierra Madre, as well as ev- erywhere else, might be drafted. Plenty of men past 40 were drafted in Europe for our two World Wars. It can happen here.

My son and daughter-in-law, just back from Korea and Ja- pan, have no idea how many American boys over there have married Japanese and Koreans, but say a great many have done so. That always happens in any occupied nation. That's something to remember when any politician—who wouldn't do any fighting—waves the flag and orates that we ought to teach those dirty Chinks a lesson.

France has produced the most versatile home-knitting ma- chine in existence; and the American Singer Sewing Ma- chine company is fighting to keep its market because Nec- chi (Italian), Elna (Swiss), and Pfaff and Adler (German) have surged so far ahead of it.

This is an impressive list, yet we have not mentioned German automobiles, Parisian gowns, Belgian laces, Irish linens, Italian felts and straws, or Royal Copenhagen pottery.

Anyway, why make so much ado over things that will be accorded nothing more in his- tory than the niche assigned to the artifacts of any civiliza- tion? Instead why not take into every place that we visit America's unique contribution to the world's progress—the honest effort to live the great truth that before God all men are equal. Thus equipped we shall walk with compassion not criticism, with understanding not contempt. And we shall be welcome everywhere.

Letter to the News

Paris, France
August 23, 1954
Sierra Madre NEWS,
Sierra Madre, Calif.

Dear Sir:

Before leaving our home town of Sierra Madre for a trip of a lifetime through southwest Eu- rope, our parents told the editor of our prospective trip. He was kind enough to print an article so that our friends in town would catch up on the details of the trip. We want to write now and to share some of the further details of this wonder- ful experience.

We left Sierra Madre by car the 25th of June for Quebec City, Canada. We had a fast but pleasant trip East and sail- ed July 3 on the Arosa Kulm. We had a ten-day journey with good weather across the Atlan- tic and docked in London Har- bor. Following our arrival in the world's largest and one of the most interesting cities, we had a three-day visit in which time we saw many beautiful places and things. These in- cluded the Westminster Abbey, the Crown Jewels in the Tower of London, many museums, an afternoon in Hyde Park where we saw the Queen reviewing the London Police department, 10,000 in number, the changing of the guards at Buckingham Palace and many other fascinat- ing things.

We purchased our bicycles in Oxford and rode south through Winchester and Portsmouth, then east to Dover. From there we took a channel steamer to Ostend, Belgium. During our cycling journey through Bel- gium we had a sightseeing tour in Brussels. We visited some of the shops in which is made some of the world's most fa- mous lace. From Belgium we cycled through Germany and spent five lovely days along the beautiful Rhine river. We stayed in a few very interest- ing 12th century castles in the Rhine valley, one of the most beautiful spots that we have been to. From Germany we en- tered Austria for two days on our way to the "vacationers' paradise of the world," Switzer- land. We had a week of travel in that fascinating land of mountains and lakes. We spent a few days in shopping and sightseeing along the banks of Lake Lucerne where we saw many other American tourists.

We came to France on Aug. 17 and we are in Paris, "City of gaiety and night light" at the present time. We have seen modern Paris, plus many extra sights, including the Palace of Versailles, the fascinating flea market and many others.

We will leave Paris this morning for a ten-day cycling trip to Le Havre to meet our ship on the 4th of September. We will travel to Le Havre via Chartres and Mt. Saint Michel.

Unless plans are changed, we will meet our parents in Que- bec Sept. 13 and will return to school upon our arrival in Cal- ifornia.

Thanking you for your inter- est and thoughtfulness, we re- main

Sincerely,
Nancy and Bud Webster.

Governor Knight Points to Youth Authority Success

Although California is well under the national average in juvenile delinquency increase, additional facilities for the reduction of this problem have recently been launched and studies are being continued in the field of future needs.

This was Governor Goodwin J. Knight's message to East Los Angeles Community Fair throngs last week as he rounded out a series of speaking engagements in his Southern California election campaign.

Discussing the Fair's objective—the raising of funds for the establishment of neighborhood meeting places for youngsters—the Governor praised sponsoring community leaders and declared that the movement "could well spread throughout the state and the nation."

Quoting state figures on delinquency cases, the Governor said that last year 88,000 children under 18 years of age were taken into custody by law enforcement agencies.

"Of this number," he said, "28,000 were brought before our juvenile courts and 3,600 were committed to the State Youth Authority. The Youth Authority's program now is proving successful in the rehabilitation of more than 70 per cent of the cases committed to it."

Three new juvenile institutions have been dedicated during the last six months, the Governor said. "Two of these have special significance in that they are reception center-clinics. Here for the first time, we will provide high standard professional service for the diagnosis and classification of the individual child."

Referring to his years as a judge of the Los Angeles Superior Court and later as the state's chief executive, Knight said: "As long as I am Governor the state will continue to find ways to meet its responsibilities in delinquency prevention, in public health and in child welfare."

Hjordis Parker to Open Forum Series

Hjordis Parker, well known Sierra Madrean, will open the 1954-1955 Community Forum series tonight (Sept. 26) in the Monrovia-Duarte high school auditorium at 7:45.

Mrs. Parker was an outstanding success when she showed her all-color film on "Norway" to a near capacity audience last year. Mrs. Parker's film will be on "Sweden."

In her new picture, Hjords Parker brings to her audience the story of a nation through its people. She describes the life of the Swedish people from the viewpoint of a Scandinavian within the country itself, rather than from the eyes of a world-traveler.

All of Sweden will be covered in this all-color film. It will include the city life in such cities as Stockholm and the farm life which plays a large part in Sweden's economy. Sweden's copper and iron industries will be portrayed along with many others, such as the glass industry.

In her film, Mrs. Parker has found place for sports, education and rare humor. Lapland, in the farthest Arctic tip of Sweden, is shown with the crude tools still in use after centuries.

'Purpose of Education Development Of Individual,' Dr. Scharer Says

"The purpose of modern education is the development of each individual for fullest participation in our way of life." This was the central theme of Dr. Scharer's address to the crowd of approximately 150 who attended the PTA meeting at the school auditorium on Thursday evening, Sept. 16.

In developing this idea, Dr. Scharer, superintendent of schools in San Gabriel, pointed out that, far from abandoning the fundamental 3 R's, we must re-emphasize them and add three more properly to equip today's child for today's world. So, to reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic, we find added responsibility, relationships and religion.

Dr. Scharer reminisced about his own education in the little red school house of song and story fame when "all children were forced through the same knot-hole." And he concluded that today's child is infinitely better off under a system designed specifically to fit his individual needs.

In a later discussion Dr. Scharer expressed the opinion that finding teachers equipped to implement this broad and challenging philosophy of education was today less of a problem than it was even a few years ago. He did say, however, that he felt that the superior child was not receiving either the consideration or the attention he deserved in today's public school system. And about that, he said, something would have to be done.

Following Dr. Scharer's address, Mrs. Matilda Smith led the group in a short community sing, after which the meeting was adjourned to the cafeteria for refreshments.

● FIRE FLAMES

By JAMES HEASLEY

Without large words or apologies, the writer has decided that it is about time the general public, which sometimes takes too much for granted, be told what the fire department means to them. It is not necessarily in the form of vaunt expression, nor are we trying to make an impression. It means that too few realize what a good thing they have in the volunteer fire department.

Little do they realize the importance of having a group of very interested men who will willingly answer fire calls and respond day or night. Nor do they realize that the cost of supporting this fire department is little more than paying the wages or salary of one man. This alone can mean the lowering of the yearly taxes by quite an amount.

There is no reason in the world why every householder should not do his utmost to cooperate with the requests of the department in eliminating fire hazards. It may be good economy and it may not be—you be the judge. It is fully realized that to operate our city without a professional or "paid" fire department is not the wisest of the Board of Underwriters, which adjusts the fire insurance rate. It has been proved, beyond doubt, that our so-called volunteer department has proved worthy of recognition and the fact that we remain a sixth class city proves this. Even though we might be reclassified and "demoted" into a seventh class, the insurance rate would still not be sufficiently raised to pay the cost of an entire crew of salaried fire fighters. So-o-o-o, as long as we are getting by with a willing volunteer fire department, it should not be too difficult to help them by doing everything possible to avoid unwanted fire.

Each second and fourth Friday of each month, a large number of men gather at the station to drag hose and to do general hard work required of them to keep in touch with the necessities of fire fighting. Were it not for the general good fellowship and business of the meetings that follow the drills, there is great doubt that the interest would continue. The members are not anxious to fight fires, but they give all that they have in energy when one gets started. The least householders can do is to remove all fire hazards from the premises and avoid fires in all respects.

● Scanning the Sportscene

By BOB BROGGER

Well, it looks like the Yankees aren't going to do it this year!

For the first time in five straight years a team has stopped the New York Yankees' reign as World Champions. And it took a team that had to play .730 percentage ball.

The incomparable Casey Stengel, probably one of the greatest managers of all time, finally remarked sorrowfully that the best team had won.

Casey had predicted earlier in the season that Cleveland's pitchers could not stand the pace of the league and would literally "poop" out before the season.

We change our World Series prediction to this: The Cleveland Indians will win the Series. The starting pitchers will be Bob Lemon of Cleveland against Johnny Antonelli of the Giants. The second game pitchers will be for Cleveland Mike Garcia vs. Sal Maglie of New York.

Also Cleveland will win 4 out of 5 games. In other words, Cleveland will "wipe 'em."

Typically British fare will be served, including jam tarts, little mince tarts and assorted breads, with coffee and cake for those who prefer them. The afternoon's festivities will include door prizes and a grab bag.

Everyone is invited to attend this social afternoon and enjoy the fun as well as acquaint themselves with the home and its beneficial work. Tickets are 75 cents. Additional information may be had by calling Mrs. Schnegg at AT. 4-7229.

Nursery School Fashion Show to Feature Major Designers Oct. 2

Excitement is high as members of the Sierra Madre Community Nursery School Auxiliary complete last minute details for their Sixth Annual Fashion Show to be presented on Oct. 2 at 1:30 p.m. The gardens and swimming pool area of the Stephen A. Compas home, 1005 Fallen Leaf Rd., Arcadia, will be the location of this always popular social event, and decorations of grounds and refreshment tables will mirror this year's "Clothes Carnival" theme.

Virginia Sayles, who will present the adult fashions and act as commentator for the third consecutive year, says that interest this year will center around the new "Relaxed" silhouette, a very new, yet wearable and becoming trend, as interpreted by California designers. Color, color and more color invades the new fashion picture.

Featured in the show will be California designer styles from the Nov. 1st issue of Harper's Bazaar, featuring "Cerise Pink Through Lilac Tones."

Among designers showing will be Don Loper, Addie Masters, Pat Premo, Marjorie Michael, Elaine Terry and Peggy Hunt. Harper's Bazaar and Vogue magazines also will be represented.

Mrs. George Barnett, ticket

chairman, announces that advance ticket sales indicate a capacity audience of more than 700. Delightful surprises await guests in attractive favors, beautiful door prizes—and, of course, clothes of highest fashion. Tickets may be secured from any auxiliary member, Virginia Sayles shop and Youngland.

MARIE GAGGERO NUPTIAL RITES OCTOBER 2

Marie Gaggero was recently honored at a miscellaneous bridal shower in the home of her aunt, Mrs. Norman E. Brooks, 270 N. Grove. Hostesses for the party were Mrs. Lucille Stewart and Mrs. Jenny Plamgenti.

Miss Gaggero, daughter of Mrs. Lenora Gaggero of Pasadena, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Osti, 271 N. Grove, will marry Rev. Carol Kelly Kiger Oct. 2 in Pilgrim's Holiness Church, Pasadena.

A pink and white color scheme was used for the table decorations at the recent party. A miniature bride centered the table and was surrounded by green and white chrysanthemums. Jean, the Osti's youngest daughter, presented the guest of honor with a bouquet of white paper roses and kitchen gadgets.

The bride-elect has been feted at a personal shower given by her bridesmaids and maid of honor in the social hall of the Pilgrim's Holiness church and a pot-luck dinner and miscellaneous shower given by the ladies of the Pasadena church.

Following the wedding the newly married couple will make their home in Rich Hill, Mo.

Congressman Edgar W. Hiestand REPORTS THE WASHINGTON NEWS

Publisher's Note: During Congressman Hiestand's absence from Washington, various guest columnists will fill the space generally devoted to his weekly report. The articles are written by various department and bureau heads. This week's deals with the Veterans Administration.

THE VETERANS ADMINISTRATION AND YOU

By Harvey V. Higley
Administrator of Veterans Affairs

All of us know the value of an industry or farm enterprise to our local communities, but few recognize the important part Veterans Administration plays in the economic life of our home towns. Congressman Hiestand asked me to outline briefly the work of the VA.

Approximately 95 cents out of every tax dollar that VA receives every year goes back to the local communities in the form of cash or other benefits to veterans, their widows or orphaned children.

The remaining 5 cents goes for the cost of administering VA. It is paid out in salaries and other expenses that are necessary to distribute the 95 cents in direct and indirect benefits to veterans or their dependents.

Even the 5-cent-cost-of-operation benefits the local communities because most of our employees are your neighbors or near-neighbors and the salaries they receive are spent in your general area.

In the last year for which we have figures, your State of California received $343,000,000 in direct and indirect benefits to veterans or their dependents. That does not include certain life insurance benefits and a few other expenditures of a minor nature which cannot be broken down by States.

Of this amount, $186,000,000 was paid in cash to 247,000 living veterans or dependents of deceased veterans in the form of compensation or pension payments. The remainder covered such benefits as GI Bill education or training, vocational rehabilitation for the disabled, hospitalization, medical care, death indemnity, burial benefits, and the like.

VA benefits your local community in another way. The GI loan program has brought your state many tax dollars in the 420,000 GI home loans totaling over $3.1 billion made to date.

The GI Bill education and training program also has made its contribution to your general welfare, not only in raising the educational level of your community, but in the increased income taxes that have resulted from the higher earning power of the GI Bill trainees, according to a Census Bureau study.

Our medical program, while of direct benefit only to veterans, has been recognized and is still being recognized for its contribution to the improved standards of medical care generally. In the treatment of tuberculosis alone, VA has played an outstanding part in reducing the nation's TB death rate since the end of World War II.

SCHOOL TERM IS CALLED A THREE WAY EXPERIENCE

Dad, Mother, Sis, Brother, Teacher Too, All Can Learn from Each Other

By CLARA SAVAGE LITTLEDALE
Editor, Parents' Magazine

These are the days of anticipation. Now mothers are letting out some seams and sewing on name tapes; fathers spend Saturday afternoon supervising haircuts, and stop on their way from work to bring home gifts of new pencil boxes. Junior spacemen weigh whether they will be allowed to wear their helmets on the First Day Back, and the teen-age lady ponders "which dress . . ."

In the unnatural quiet of airing classrooms, teachers are working out day-by-day curriculum and schedule. All over the country, "back to school . . . back to school" is the theme. The adventure begins again.

As the mother snaps off a thread, she may remark to her husband, "I wonder what the new teacher is like." The space navigator yells to the pilot, "Blast off!"—and then, "You had Miss X last year . . . you like her?"

And on the First Day, as each bright face coming through the door turns to her, Miss X, too, wonders what the 30 or 40 children, the 60 or 80 parents, will be like.

Probably these are age-old questions, but today they have a different tone.

If your children are well along in school, you have already found that the recurrent Adventure of School is even more exciting for you now than in your own school days. More than ever before, parents are interested and involved in the success of their children's education.

But it isn't just the getting to know things that brings on the end-of-August excitement each year. It is a new kind of awareness that a teacher is a person, parents are persons, and—especially—children are persons.

This is perhaps the most representative of the changes that have come about in education during the past few decades. It is an attitude of open-mindedness and mutual respect, and it plays a vital part in your children's learning.

For the First Time

If your youngster is going to school for the first time, then you, too, are embarking on an adventure of learning. If you stay in his classroom the first day or two, and visit later on, you may be surprised even though you are "up" on the new teaching methods—to see them applied.

This brings up one aspect of your own educational adventure. You encourage your child's curiosity. Encourage your own. You find you want to ask, "Miss X, what is the principle behind the new way of teaching reading?" If Miss X is like most teachers, you will find her happy to talk over that question and anything else that may be on your mind.

You may wonder, in the beginning, just what Johnny is learning. In those first few days, the children are learning something very fundamental. They begin to understand each other and to trust the new adult—Teacher—who is to play such an important role in their lives.

Teacher's Importance

Sometimes a mother feels that Teacher is too important. She feels left out, and must remind herself to give her child the freedom to be fond of other adults and respect them. Soon she discovers that her own role is as important as ever—especially if she participates in the school experience, learning along with child and teacher.

Increasingly, modern parents consult with the school staff and with each other, promote group discussion, attend lectures.

More and more, mothers—and fathers who can manage it—are taking time to see for themselves just what enters into their children's education, and to make their own contribution.

Many parents, incidentally, that simply observing their boys and girls in a different environment—as working members of a group—is immensely enlightening.

But keep in mind that this process of enlightenment works three ways. The teacher wants to learn from you, too.

No independently thinking individuals can ever agree completely on every detail of bringing up children—but they can ascertain and understand each other's views.

Keep Teacher Informed

Your contact with your child's teacher may at times be as simple as advising her that your first-grader is hesitant about asking to leave the room.

Rally Day To Be Observed at Methodist Sunday, Sept. 26

Rally Day will be observed in the Church School of the Church of Our Redeemer, Methodist, Sunday, Sept. 26. Parents are requested to come with the children at 9:30 a.m. for a general program in the chapel. All of the classes will unite for this day. Each department will participate in the program.

There will be a consecration service for all Church School teachers. The pastor, Rev. Raynor Smith, will bring a story entitled, "Key to the Golden Palace." You are invited to help your child become educated in the Christian faith by bringing him to Church School each Sunday.

"The Good News of Salvation" will be the sermon theme for the 11 a.m. worship service on Sunday. This is the last of the "Good News" series of the sermons being preached by Rev. Smith through the month of September. It is still not too late to hear this most important message of good news.

The attention of the public is invited to the inauguration of an early worship service at the Methodist church on Sundays, beginning Oct. 3. This early service will continue as usual.

For those who have found the later hour inconvenient, this new early worship service will prove welcome, Rev. Smith said this week.

News of the Churches

First Baptists to Organize Evening Women's Society

Tonight (Sept. 23) the women of the First Baptist church will meet to organize an evening Women's Missionary society. This group is being organized to offer women who work and women who have small children and cannot come at other times, a convenient meeting hour.

The evening group will meet on the fourth Thursday of each month and the day group on the third Thursday of the month. Both groups will work on White Cross material to be sent overseas for missionaries to use in the mission hospitals.

Bethany Sunday School Promotion Next Sunday

The annual promotion of Sunday School members will take place this coming Sunday, according to Art Bush, Bethany Sunday School superintendent. A special program will be presented during the morning session beginning at 9:30 a.m. The work of the various departments will be presented along with songs and recitations.

The Sunday School is organized in closely graded form, with separate classes for each grade in school up to high school age. Bible centered materials are used throughout to coordinate the curriculum.

"We Are Members One of Another": Rev. H. Leach

Preaching from the text, "We are members one of another," the Rev. Harry P. Leach, interim minister of the Sierra Madre Congregational Church, declared that many of the tensions of the world today are the result of an arrogant, domineering and superior attitude of one nation toward another. The resentments thus created cannot be erased by bombs and bayonets for these only deepen the resentment into lasting hate.

No good can come from racial or religious antagonisms. We must learn to live at peace with all men, to develop tolerance toward those who are different from us and require of them respect and understanding for our ways of thinking and living. We are members one of another; we rise or fall together.

WCTU TO MEET THURSDAY, SEPT. 30, AT HALL HOME

The Harter Women's Christian Temperance union will meet Thursday, Sept. 30, at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. J. Andrew Hall, 611 W. Grandview.

This meeting will start the new year for WCTU with the newly installed officers beginning their year's work.

All friends and members of the union are urged to be present.

Science Sermon on 'Power of Reality'

Reality is the nature of God's gifts of goodness to man and not an abstraction. This thought is developed in the Lesson-Sermon "Reality" in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The instantaneous healing of the woman who had an infirmity for eighteen years is detailed during the sermon. Luke's Gospel (13:12, 13) records Jesus as saying, "Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity." It is further recorded that "Immediately she was made straight, and glorified God."

"Reason, rightly directed, serves to correct the errors of corporeal sense; but sin, sickness, and death will seem real (even as the experiences of the sleeping dream seem real) until the Science of man's eternal harmony breaks their illusion with the unbroken reality of scientific being," says Mary Baker Eddy in a correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 494).

The Golden Text quotes Paul, "As it is written, He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord (I Cor. 1:31).

Palm Springs Plans For Jewish New Year

Palm Springs has made unusually impressive holiday plans for the Jewish New Year celebration, Rosh Hashanah, starting Sept. 27 and running through Oct. 7. These special ceremonies will be held in the Temple Isaiah, with the Rabbi Leon Rosenberg officiating. The Cantor will be Donald Decker of Pacific Palisades, who was a student of Julius Blackman, well-known Cantor of Los Angeles. The choir will sing the traditional holiday music under the direction of Harry Tomlin, the organist. Kol Nidre will be performed by the Cantor, choir and a cellist for the opening of the Yom Kippur service.

High holiday services have been conducted in Palm Springs since 1950 and regular services are held year around in the beautiful Temple Isaiah which was completed in 1951.

This year the Jewish holiday, falling in the latter part of September and early October, coincides with the opening of the Palm Springs season.

THE GOOD NEWS OF ACTION

By Raynor Smith

The story of the life of Jesus is the good news of action. Here was one who was truly the mighty Saviour. He accompanied with the lonely, restored the afflicted and brought joy to the sorrowing. To fellowship with Jesus is to discover the good news of action.

In the first place this good news gives us a new insight into the nature of man. Before the coming of Jesus, men were just pawn in the game of life, but Jesus gave value to each person. He began with neglected people, fitting the misfits into the pattern of life. He shocked respectable adults by proclaiming the worth of children. He knew that we need to be needed, and He made common folks important. Jesus came with the great word that when an average person joins a noble crusade, participates in a great fight, faithfully gives himself to something worthwhile—then his destiny is assured and his life becomes significant.

In the second place the good news of action gives a new insight into the nature of Christianity. Jesus proclaimed a way of life to be lived, not a set of creeds to be believed. Jesus came with good news to be shared, not a doctrine to be professed. Jesus' message is that "not failure, but low 'aim' is crime." He declares our mission to be one of winning others, of giving to others a needed word of encouragement, of witnessing to the faith we hold. Christianity is a way of living.

In the third place, the good news of action gives a new insight into the nature of God. Where before God had been an outside force to be contended with, Jesus proclaimed a message of God's power in human life. God is a personal presence in your life and mine. This is the scandal of the New Testament that God is mixed up in human life. We do not need any intermediary to intercede for us with God. The "tabernacle of God is with men." Whenever a man has his heart set up doing the Divine Will, there is God found. He is resident in us and powerful in our activities. The upreach of your life is touched by the downreach of God's love and victorious living is yours. It can happen to you and when it does you will come to know the thrilling good news of action—the worth of a man living a life that counts through the transforming power of the Heavenly Father.

National Sunday School Week to Start September 26

The campaign "Operation Increase" continues at the First Baptist church throughout September and October. From time to time, special themes will be introduced for a Sunday.

The theme for Sunday, Sept. 26, will be "Everyone Stay for Church Sunday" to encourage 100% of the Bible school to remain for church.

Sept. 26 is also the beginning of National Sunday School week, which ends Oct. 3. The First Baptist church will have its fall Rally Day at this time, Rev. Mr. Kriz said this week.

Dedication Series At Bethany Church

The largest child dedication service in the history of Bethany Church was conducted last Sunday morning. After a few remarks to the congregation and an admonition to the parents, Dr. Schaper, the pastor, offered a dedicatory prayer for each family.

Included in the service were Marilyn Joy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Art Bush, Elinore Elise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bush, Krista Lynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brice Carlson, Bruce Roy Robertson, son of Dr. and Mrs. Jack Gilbert, Beverly Marie, Wesley Arthur and Janeen Louise, children of Mr. and Mrs. James Hewitt, Dana Steven and Keven Stuart, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Maxwell, Ruth Gill, Rebecca Joy and Virginia Mary Anne, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Roesch and Kirk Edwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Rogers.

Blanche Thebom, renowned mezzo-soprano in S. F.—"You've got to watch those scales, as well as practice them, if you want to be a success on the operatic stage."

Maj. Gen. Walter Todd, USAF, Hamilton Field, on freedom of information—"The taxpayer is entitled to know about the defense he is paying for."

Attorney General Edmund G. Brown, Sacto.—"Respect for the law must continue to be taught as a major subject in our schools."

You have an extra hour coming to you after Saturday midnight, Sept. 25! That's when you turn the clock back 60 minutes to return to ye olde fashioned STANDARD time!

Introducing...SIERRA MADRE'S BUSINESSMEN

The eleventh in a series about Sierra Madre's business establishments and the men and women who own and manage them—

SIERRA MADRE as it is today

... and the SIERRA MADRE of tomorrow is, and will be the result of planning of intelligent leaders and the cooperation of all its citizens. It is cooperation and loyalty that make a town ... it is pride and ambition in its people ... it is neighborliness and friendliness.

They have supported its institutions, served on its boards and planned WISELY for its future, working always for the best interests of the community. These men and women are your neighbors and friends.

YOUR LOCAL MERCHANTS today, as always, ask only the opportunity to serve you, that Sierra Madre may continue to be a good town in which to shop, to live in and to raise our families.

ONE OF THE FASTEST GROWING businesses in Sierra Madre has been Osti's Landscape Nursery at 320 West Sierra Madre Boulevard, across from the Post Office. Begun with the modest layout of a small building and an assortment of plants during a rare snow storm in February, 1949, it soon developed the reputation of being one of the finest nurseries in this area. Besides its redwood annex, built during the Yuletide of 1952, the nursery now has its own stoneyard and warehouse which enables its owners to hold prices down to a reasonable level in a market that otherwise can be very temperamental. ... The reasons for the nursery's great success have to do with the natures and talents of the two owners, Bob Osti and Norman Brooks. Norm, who joined Bob in the business in January, 1952, is a horticulturist and botanist of the kind that spends his working hours and leisure moments on the same subjects: soils, fertilizers and plants. He can't look at even a blade of grass without wondering how it's doing or what HE can do to help it along! ... Bob, who originated the nursery as a family enterprise, has been a Sierra Madreen since he was two months old and is well known here as an authority on landscaping, gardening and truck farming. Some of his experience, the same as Norm's, was gained through his work for the famed landscaper, C. Jacques Hahn. Both Norm and Bob are Californians, with birthplaces in Los Angeles and San Pedro, respectively, so their knowledge of soil conditions and requirements within this vicinity is a tremendous advantage not only to themselves but to their customers. ... One of Bob's in-laws is Fred Schweppe, whose daughter, Yvonne Virginia, he married November 24, 1946. One of Norm's in-laws is Bob! He married Bob's sister, Florence, April 15, 1939, after a 1938 rain storm 'washed them together' to the point of making introductions. ... About their only difference in taste is in how they spend their vacations. Norm goes to the mountains, while Bob takes to the sea. ... During World War II, Bob had plenty of chances to indulge his ocean-going tendencies, even though he couldn't do as much fishing as he might have wished. He served aboard a patrol frigate in the Pacific and around the Aleutian Islands. His experiences with Russians after the war at Cold Bay, Alaska, is another story that could never be told in flowery, or horticultural, language!

CLARENCE MORRISON

Norm's Garage
22 East Montecito

MANY SO-CALLED NATIVES of Sierra Madre may turn out to be those who came here at an early age, but Clarence Norman Morrisons' claim to a Sierra Madre heritage is one hundred per cent genuine. Born at Highland and Baldwin, Clarence—who also will answer to "Norm" and/or "Bud"—attended grade school here, then finished his education in Pasadena at PCC and Sawyer's Business College where he studied mechanics and business administration. In 1923 he helped his father, Norman Vorce Morrison, build Norm's garage at 22 E. Montecito, adjoining the Shell Station, and had no trouble taking over when it came his turn to carry the full responsibility. ... In the period when Arcadia Motors leased the location, Clarence worked on aircraft engines in Sacramento from 1940 to 1945, then returned here to work for Arcadia Motors at their Arcadia location until 1953 when, in March of that year, he resumed the management of his own garage. The reason for his reputation as an expert mechanic is self evident, considering that he has spent practically all his life studying and repairing engines. ... He also has spent all his life, so far, in California—except for a brief visit in Mexico and vacations in Oregon. A successful businessman as well as a fine mechanic, Clarence could take a vacation just about any place in the world, but so many people keep bringing him their cars that it's like eating popcorn—he doesn't know where to stop! ... His wife, Winnie, is his business partner. Having reared Norman Ralph, 22, and Gloria Ann, 18—with Roger Bernell Morrison, 6, still keeping her busy—Winnie is the bookkeeper who also delivers cars to customers and hot lunches to Clarence who takes very little time off even for food! They've been married since the same day—May 29, 1930—that her father, Ralph Russell wed Jessie Ward who, before her death last year, owned Ward's Nursery, a landmark here for many years. ... As for the "specialties" at Norm's Garage, there are none. ALL the work there is extra-special—although Clarence is known far and wide for his motor tune-ups and brake jobs. He works six days a week, belongs to the Exchange Club, and would like to have more time for deep-sea fishing—but too many of his Sundays are spent working at home, landscaping the yard or repairing a lawnmower!

THE SEA-GOING ADVENTURES of a man born to the sea are in the background of those who own The 3 D's Cafe, which some still call "The Malt Shop." That man's name is Glenn Oliver Doan. Born in Whittier, he went to school in San Pedro where he grew up in an atmosphere of ships and seafaring men. His father, a gasoline and diesel engineer who specialized in marine engines, was one of them—so it was only natural that Glenn became an experienced seaman at an early age. ... His first man-sized job was with the Wilmington Transportation Company owned by William Wrigley, Jr., who also owned an island, name of Catalina, and three tourist steamships—the Avalon, the Catalina and the Cabrillo. Glenn worked aboard all three ships and was named quartermaster after his first day with the company. ... Glenn later became a tugboat captain in Los Angeles Harbor, then joined the Navy in June, 1942—to teach some of the newly-made officers how to handle a boat. He was given a higher ranking after attending the Officers School in Alameda, from where he entered the Maritime Service as a navigator. He served aboard three ships, sailed around the world twice, and came to the conclusion that the Japanese were poor marksmen with torpedoes but that the Germans, in the Mediterranean, were much too good for a sailor's comfort. ... After the war, a check he had written was cleared through a Los Angeles bank with a special note attached, addressed to his initials, G. O. D. It was from Loie, whom he had known since early school days. He traced the note to the bank where she was working, and one year later they were married—September 8, 1953. ... In the meantime, Glenn had been a cabinet hardware manufacturer in Monrovia, from 1946 until he sold his interest in 1952 to go "fishing, clamming and oystering" along the coast of Washington. Looking for a new business, he and Loie bought Rusty and Ann's Malt Shop, where they moved in April 1, 1954. Who is the third "D" of the 3 D's? Her name is Jeri, and she is nine years old. ... The manager of the establishment is Johnny Sparks of Sierra Madre, who helps to keep the shop famous for its complete fountain service, hand-packed ice cream and fried chicken. ... What are the Doans' pastimes? Duck hunting, fishing, or ANYTHING that has to do with the sea!

The Answers to Everyday
Insurance Problems—
By HARRY A. LANGE

QUESTION: I believe in carrying auto liability insurance in a reasonable amount but I'm a young man without many assets outside my car so why should I go for one of these big policies? After all if something did happen they couldn't get blood out of a turnip.

ANSWER: All forms of liability insurance protect not only any assets you may now have but also your present and future income! The so-called "big" liability policies aren't costly and one just might make it possible for you to live a normal life instead of spending years paying off a big judgment.

CITY WORKERS TO RECEIVE MONTHLY MILEAGE EXPENSE

Water Supt. Al Freeland, building inspector Wm. Lees and street superintendent Ben Mobley will receive $25 a month retroactive to July 1, 1954 to cover automobile expense incurred in their work. JOHN E. FERGUS RECEIVES WINGS

Second Lieutenant John E. Fergus, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Fergus, 154 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., Sierra Madre, Calif., was awarded the silver wings of a United States Air Force pilot in ceremonies marking the graduation of Jet-Pilot Class 54-Q at this West Texas flying school.

Lt. Fergus, along with 43 classmates, received his wings and diploma from Col. Fred M. Dean, Webb AFB commander. The young officer will be assigned to a Crew Training Air Force Base to learn to fly and fight in combat type aircraft. Following this last period of pilot training, he will enter a tour of active duty as an Air Force pilot.

New Tennis Tournament Planned Here

The first tennis tournament held in Sierra Madre in recent years was so successful that another one is in the making. It will be held on the City Park courts Sunday, Oct. 10, beginning at 10 a.m.

The tournament will be run on the same lines as previously. The competition will be purely a doubles affair and the partners will be drawn for. No two entrants may enter as a team.

It is proposed to provide a small trophy for the winner and runners-up and to do this it will be necessary that all entries should be accompanied by an entrance fee of $1.

Entries should be submitted to William J. Owen, 20 W. Mira Monte, Sierra Madre. They will be accepted up to, and including Thursday, Sept. 30. Entrants must be over 12 years of age, a spokesman for the tennis enthusiasts said this week.

ZONE CHANGE

From page one— a new zone change concerned the Sierra Madre Blvd. property of the brothers, Charles A. and Albert J. Over, owners of the Sierra Madre Toy and Patio Village. Their request, asking a reclassification of the R-3 portion of the property, also was heard without protest. As in the case of the Bank of Sierra Madre which recently received a zone change for its new property on Sierra Madre Blvd., the front portion of the Overs' property already is C-1 while remaining R-3 at the rear.

During the Planning Commission's meeting, presided over by Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, chairman, the first draft of a new zoning ordinance was submitted by Mr. Kay Kalicka. Kalicka represented Gordon Whitnall and Associates, a firm that is making a city-wide survey to result in a new planning proposals.

THE DOLLARS AND "SENSE" OF HEALTH

There are so many busy people who expect to "buy health over the counter" like potatoes. These folks will not stop long enough to listen to a sensible explanation of the cause of their trouble nor will they pay any attention to constructive suggestions which require some time and patience for accomplishment. They expect to pay their money and get instant relief from their pain or discomforting symptoms. They are firmly convinced that there is a pill or an injection or an operation for every ache and pain which will furnish magic relief.

It is not our intention to make any attempt to change these people's minds. It requires too much effort to be worthwhile. There are plenty of reasonable people who realize the short-comings of magic potions, injections and operations. Greater numbers of people are constantly asking "why don't the doctors tell us more of the causes of our physical suffering so we can live in a way to prevent much of our illness? Why do doctors sit on a pedestal and try to push us around like cattle? They just laugh at us when we ask what they are injecting into our muscles and veins and say, "you wouldn't understand, anyway! Just leave it to me, and don't worry!" In this free country, those who want this information have a right to an explanation of what is being done to their bodies.

It is our conviction that any doctor who fails to teach his patients to learn better habits of health as well as treat their present complaints is only performing half his duty.

of Altadena, who is running against William Bonelli for the State Board of Equalization; William Marsh, State Assemblyman from the 42nd District; and Ferd Sturtevant of Lancaster, Republican candidate for the State Assembly from the 21st District.

All of "Eck" Hiestand's friends and supporters are invited to bring their lunch and families. The park is located at Honolulu and Dunsmore Avenues in La Crescenta, about two miles west of Verdugo Road and half a mile south of Foothill Blvd. The gates will open at 12:30, the program will start at 2:15, and festivities will continue till 6 o'clock. Beverages of various kinds will be available.

Increases in Social Security Benefits To Start October 1

The sweeping new amendments to the Social Security Act, signed into law Sept. 1 by President Eisenhower, will affect virtually every family in the San Gabriel Valley area, according to Carl D. Monroe, district manager of the Pasadena Social Security office.

"The protection of old-age and survivors insurance is now extended to 9 out of 10 families in the community," Monroe said, "and the benefit payments, not only to future beneficiaries, but also to those now receiving payments, have been substantially increased."

Immediately effective is the increase in monthly payments to persons now getting benefits. These increases will show on the September checks which will be mailed early in October.

The present minimum payment of $25 to a retired worker has been raised to $30; the maximum of $85 has been increased to $98.50. Dependents and survivors now getting monthly benefits will get proportionate increases, with every family unit assured an increase of at least $5. The maximum family payment has been raised from $168.75 to $200.00.

A first son, Scott Arthur, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lyman A. Lyman 93 E. Laurel, Sept. 3, at St. Luke hospital and weighing 9 pounds 10 1/2 ounces. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Everett Lowry of Manhattan Beach, Calif. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Euker of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Persons now receiving monthly payments do not have to take any action to get these increases. They will be made automatically and no application is necessary, Monroe emphasized.

An 8-pound, 4-ounce son, Patrick Thomas, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Francis N. Simmons, 435 N. Lima, Aug. 16 at St. Luke hospital. The Simonses have three other children, Maurice, 6; Ann, 4 1/2, and Billy, 3 1/2. The paternal grandmother is Mrs. Frances Barry Simmons of Pasadena. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. T. P. McGoldrick, also of the Crown City.

Who seeks for heaven alone to save his soul may keep the path, but will not reach the goal; while he who walks in love may wander far, yet God will bring him where the blessed are.—Henry Van Dyke.

"...ounce of prevention"

Oh, yes, we have the "ounce of cure" mentioned in the old proverb. But we'd far rather sell you that "ounce of prevention." So we suggest you go see your Doctor promptly—accept his sound advice—and bring us his prescriptions for competent and careful compounding.
